"Aboukir" is the name of the Egyptian city where Napoleon defeated Seid Mustafa Pasha of the Ottoman Empire in 1799. It was in this era and from this part of Egypt that Europe received one of its greatest blessings ever from Africa in the form of excellent hotblood genes.

"Aboukir Arabian Stud" was registered in 1985 by Theo en Marvel van Hasselt of Zastron, Freestate SA. The stud produced excellent work, breeding, and sports horses, many of which excelled at the Fauresmith endurance race. Breeding was stopped and the stock much reduced since 2002 when Theo retired. Fortunately, in 2006 his daughter Anli managed to gather a few brood mares from the original Aboukir stock and revived Aboukir's breeding programme. The stud found its new home at Aansluit Landgoed, Verkykerskop, north-eastern Freestate. Ownership and management of the stud was taken over by PJ Grobler in June 2017.
